

STREAMING PORTS Information.

Because RTSP uses standard ports 554 it's possible that you need to change this on a router to reflect your different network. Inside your camera browser settings, under Device Configure and Device Port. You can change this from the 554 factory default as required.

You can see there are all the ports used for the camera. Onvif and the Web Server Port: Default is 80. Control Port 30001.

All ports should be open for successful video data streaming with all possible types of connection.
